Prompt Emergency Responses

We care about you, your coworkers and your families. Our COVID-19 Employee Helpline is your way to directly communicate with company leadership. We encourage you to seek assistance from your supervisor or manager first, but if that's not possible or you need additional help, call our Helpline.

CALL THE HELPLINE IF:

- You are diagnosed with COVID-19 by a healthcare professional
- You are experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 (fever, cough, trouble breathing, etc.)
- You have been denied entry to a job site because of any kind of health screening and/or temperature taking
- You believe you may have been exposed to COVID-19 in the workplace or you have heard of someone in the building who has a suspected or confirmed case of COVID-19
- You have Safety or Human Resources questions or concerns about COVID-19.
